

Physical Properties' Impact on Safety and Profit

Nathan Lott<sup>C, S</sup>

DIPPR, New York, NY, U.S.A.

nathl@aiche.org

Vince Wilding and Thomas Knotts

Department of Chemical Engineering, Brigham Young University, Provo, UT, U.S.A.

It is imperative that chemical processes be designed and operated as safely and efficiently as possible to be viable long-term. This presentation will highlight the high impact of physical property data accuracy on safe, efficient, and profitable process design and operation, citing specific examples, as well as overviewing DIPPR's unique "systems" evaluation approach and tools supplied to ensure data accuracy.